Remove the monthly prices. It's a awful business model, especially in a early access!

I like the base program but I already moved to Microsoft's Maquette because of this subscription nonsense money grabbing.. Basic version lacks too much, it looks like a false advertisement when you watch a vid and decide to try it. You only get very basic creation tool set, nothing to adjust what you have created, rendering app completely useless

Beta version update:

We have published a new beta version! Please download and play.

Friends, we have published a new beta version of the Secret Government game. We set a goal to make the game more interesting without adding new mechanics and it seems we did it.

Here is what has changed in the new version:

1. A "web of influence" appeared on the map. It shows how much you control the countries and how your secret government is distributed on the map.
2. Information icons appeared on the main map and in the filters. They are displayed when any parameters change in the game, either by themselves or thanks to you. Implemented for changing relations between countries and awareness of the activities of fraternity.
3. The game has pop-up notifications that inform about the completion of some part of the quest, the appearance of new quests on the map.
4. Improved usability of the action selection interface. Now you need less clicks.
5. Added new quests on the mechanics of relationships / alliances / wars to make the game more diverse.
6. On the map added icons of intrusion to institutes.
7. There are a lot of improvements in the mechanics of war, alliances and the whole game.

Known issues:

- Impossible quests may fall out. New beta and new early access date:

We have updated the beta version of the game.

The main and most important thing is that the release of the game in the early access was postponed to October 2019.

We want to finalize the game to our original idea.

In the coming days, we will publish a list of what will come into play at the time of entry into early access.

In this version:

- We have updated the beta version of the game. During last iteration, the main task was to demonstrate the future game model, based on already existing mechanics.

A new game loop scheme has been developed:

- the player performs quests and infiltrates into the institutions to earn domination points
- the player invests points in the selected research
- research opens up policies for use by countries and affects other mechanics
- the policies adopted by countries and the actions performed by the player (through the mechanics) influence the values of the classes and their support of the ruling and opposition parties
- at a certain ratio of support to the ruling and opposition parties, the player can make a revolution and change the political system in the country (which is the purpose of the mission in the current plot mode)
- data on the situation in the world is shown to the player (which may be the purpose of a mission in the free mode (free mode has not yet been implemented))

What is included in the version:

- The tree of ideas: the tree of ideas that are in the air, the study of ideas, the discovery of new actions, quests, political regimes.
- The mechanism of values and needs of different classes of society: the relationship of significance and satisfaction of the values of classes with party policies, the influence of various game mechanics on modifiers to the level of satisfaction of values, the ability for the player to influence them by performing actions
- Game mechanics updates and additions in connection with the mechanism of values and policies: the ability to influence the level of mobilization, the allowances of the military, the volume of trade, etc. calculation of public order mechanism change
- Creation of the policy change algorithm in the country and the dependence of the country's AI logic on the policies chosen by the ruling party
- The output of information in the window of the world about the current relationship in the world of policies in states and values.
